Tee Markers

Every custom tee marker begins with your course's logo or branding elements. From there, we interpret the design and determine the best way to bring it to life using one of our four signature styles: cut aluminum, cast metal, parkast resin, or carved sandstone. # Our Services

Refurbishing p. 54

Powder Coating p. 54

Specialty Design p. 57

Powder Coating

With our own in-house powder coating services, we can add color to many of our sign posts and course products. This state of the art technique gives you the beautiful high-end look without the upkeep and maintenance involved with classic paints. Powder coating is a dry finishing process. Finely ground particles of pigment and resin are electrostatically charged and sprayed onto our golf course products. The parts to be coated are electrically grounded, so that the charged particles adhere to them until melted and fused into a solid coating in a curing oven. The result is an attractive and high-quality finish.

Refurbish

Instead of spending the high price for new cast bronze or cast aluminum tee signs or yardage markers, we offer a unique alternative service. Weathered and peeing metal signs get sand blasted and refreshed in our expansive facility.

At GG markers, we believe in a second life. The golf course products we produce are not only build to last but also built with the future in mind. Whether its tee markers, signs, or even furniture, our design style allows for refurbishing.

The Human Touch: From Vision to Reality

Great design begins with a conversation, not an algorithm. While AI may generate images, it cannot capture the nuanced vision in your mind or the precise details that make your course unmistakably yours.

At GG Markers, our graphic design team serves as your creative partner from initial concept to final production. This personalized approach of asking questions, refining details, and understanding context requires human intuition and expertise that no automated system can replicate.

Your course deserves dedicated professionals who shepherd your vision from inspiration to installation.
